

New indigenous breed of chicken registered and released in Nigeria.

Growth in the livestock industry in Nigeria is driven by commitment of Animal Scientists in Academic and industry. The recent breakthrough in animal breeding in the year 2018 was the registration and release of indigenous breed of poultry known as FUNAABALPH by Professor Mrs. Adebambo of the Federal University of Agriculture Abeokuta. This signals a new era in the poultry industry in Nigeria.

APPOINTMENT

Nigerian Institute of Animal Scientist is glad to announce the elevation of its members who have distinguished themselves in their profession and are given higher responsibility to serve at higher capacities.

1. Professor V. A. Aletor appointed Vice Chancellor University of Africa, Bayelsa State.
2. Professor S. N. Ukachukwu appointed Vice Chancellor Wesley University, Ondo State
3. Professor Saleh Mohammed (Sir) appointed Deputy Vice Chancellor Federal University Kashere Gombe state.

KEY DECISIONS TAKEN AT THE 7TH NIAS BOARD OF FELLOWS MEETING.

The 7th meeting of Board of Fellows of NIAS tagged foundation setting took place at Agricultural Research Council Board Room Abuja on Tuesday 19th June 2018. Key decisions take during the meeting are:

1. Approval for creation of Register for Fellows.
2. The use of the Acronym FNIAS as suffix is only allowed by a member who fulfills all his financial obligations to the board.
3. The meeting gave approval for publication of names of Fellows who have fulfilled their annual financial obligations in newspapers.
4. The meeting approved the extension of tenure of current executive by six months.
5. The meeting upheld the exiting criteria for the appointment of new Fellows of NIAS.
6. It was also agreed that henceforth members who fails to fulfill their financial obligation cannot sit with or join fellows' procession during ceremonies at ASAN/NIAS JAM.
7. The meeting Approved life membership for fellows of the Institute.
8. The meeting resolved to measure and monitor performance of its members in BOFs and NIAS activities.

